JACK FULLERTON KILLED IN VIETNAM

Jack Fullerton is dead. He was killed in action, one week ago today, on January 31, at the US Embassy, in Saigon.

The son of Mr and Mrs John Fullerton of 20 Main Street his last letter home was written on January 17th. It was to reassure his mother, that he would be home on July 4th, and that 'I've got a wonderful job now - there is nothing to worry about. I've got an inside job now, and you'd never know that there was a war going on outside!'

Jackie had been transferred by his commanding officer to the 95th Military Police Battalion, 18th Military Police, and was assigned to guard the US Embassy in Saigon.

Jackie, as he was known (his name was John Joseph Fullerton Jr) had earned that job, and his commanding officer knew it. He had seen more than his share of action, had been wounded three times, and had twice been awarded the Purple Heart. His first injury was from a land mine, at the end of June last year, two days after he had landed in Vietnam. On July 28th, after he had rejoined his outfit, he was injured by a grenade, injured in the ear, right arm and chest. He spent 13 days in the hospital on that one.

Then, in an ambush on the 13th of November, Jackie was wounded in the right leg and buttocks - a 13 inch wound that took 18 stitches.

So his Commanding Officer, believing that he deserved a break, assigned him to the relatively safe duty of guarding the US Embassy in Saigon.

OFF THEY GO - INTO DEEP DEEP SNOW: Well, it was over their shoetops. Earl Zimmerman and Mrs George Robertie of the Wilmington Conservation Commission attempt to walk on the snow crust, followed by Danny Gillis of the Planning Board, as they look over four lots of land to the east of Hathaway Acres, Sunday, proposed to be bought by the town in the March Town Meeting for a recreation area.

Not shown is Mrs Madelyn McKie, who thought (wrongly, it turned out) that the 'snow walking' would be easier in the wooded areas. Afterwards it turned out that a road had been plowed down to the area for which they were heading.

Statement by Selectman Paul Niles Not a Candidate

It is with regret that I announce my decision to accept a transfer to the Washington, DC area, offered by my company. The improved opportunity being made available by the transfer is such that I could not in fairness to my family decline it.

I want to thank all of the people of the community and my friends for the support and cooperation which has always been given so generously to me. The kindnesses and encouragement are appreciated and will be missed very much. Again my thanks and best wishes for Wilmington's continued success as a Community.

As many of you know, I filed nomination papers to seek reelection as a Selectman. Unfortunately the transfer action on Tuesday of this week was too late to permit me to withdraw my name from the ballot. Although my name will appear on the ballot I will be unable to serve, since I anticipate leaving Wilmington in March.

Regrettably, the voters have been offered a limited choice since there were only four candidates for Selectman, there are now only three. It will be most unfortunate for the voters if other candidates do not come forward and offer their abilities to the community.

My wife and I are very sorry at having to leave Wilmington where we have found so many friends and where we have had so much enjoyment. The enjoyment will always be part of our memories and we know we will always have the friends.

$75,000 Worth of Gravel?

Ostensibly the argument before the Board of Appeals Tuesday night was over a couple of building permits, which had been revoked last December by Building Inspector Roy McClanahan.

But the chairman of the Board of Appeals put his finger right on the nub of the fight when, towards the last of the ninety minute long discussion he asked John Magee Jr. how much gravel there was in the disputed area.

Magee allowed that there were about 200,000 to 250,000 yards of burrow in the area he and his father were excavating. On further questioning he allowed that they were making about 25 cents a yard, loaded on the trucks at the site.

That, chairman Richard Howlett figured quickly, is about $75,000.

And if anyone doubted further that the argument was really about gravel he had only to look and listen to Attorney Richard Sheppard of 40 Court Street Boston present the arguments. Mr. Sheppard is the foremost 'gravel' attorney in Massachusetts, and only makes appearances when the main subject is Gravel.

Mr Sheppard presented good arguments for Magee, father and son. The Magees live in Andover, and are building homes in that town, overlooking Foster's pond. They also have a gravel operation in that area.

Present to hear the arguments in the little hearing room in the cellar of the Town Hall were three selectmen, the Town Counsel, the Town Engineer, the Building Inspector, William Stickney of the Planning Board, half a dozen interested spectators and three abutments, Ed Ferguson of Andover

Hopefully, The Cornerstone Will Be 1968

The Town Manager has signed a contract with the architectural firm of Korslund, LeNorman & Quand, of Norwell, for the planning of Wilmington's new public library.

Monday night, while the majority of the members of the Permanent Building Committee were attending the Selectmen's meeting, for the purpose of discussing the proposed Shawsheen Avenue School, one member stayed in the High School Meeting Room for the purpose of Reviewing the plans to date.

He discussed the plans with Maurice Bladeaux, and a Mr. Boucher, of the firm. The discussion started with the stanchions planned for the first floor, went on to electrical outlets on the first and second floors, and continued on and on. It did not end until 11:30 pm.

At one point in the conversation Mr. Bladeaux made a comment: 'Hopefully,' he said, 'We'll put the date 1968 on the cornerstone!'

Gas Station Breaks Cleared Up

Two Woburn youths are being charged with a number of break and entry cases into gasoline stations in Wilmington, Woburn, and Burlington, as the result of some alert police work by Patrolmen Robert Shelley and William Fay, of the Wilmington Police Department.

The two men, on routine patrol on Sunday morning, noticed at 12:45 am a shadowy movement in the Shell Station, at the corner of Main Street and Lowell Street. Driving around in the back, they found a window broken, and found a youth nearby. He was questioned, but would give no satisfactory answers.

While Fay watched the youth, Shelley went to the Shell Station window, and confirmed that there was someone inside.

A call to the police station quickly brought Officer Langone and Roscoe, the police dog, followed soon by Sgt. Mercier and Officer Cuoco. The youths surrendered without resistance. One is reported to have been nineteen years old, and the other eighteen.

According to the Wilmington police, the youths have admitted to breaking into nine gas stations in Woburn, five in Burlington, and five in Wilmington. Just prior to their capture they had attempted to break into Mel's Clito Station at the Woburn line, but were unable to force entry, the police say, and had also broken into Frank Darling's Amoco Station, on Main St.

Complaints were issued in the Woburn Court on Monday morning, and the two youths were arraigned before Justice Francis P. Cullen. Their cases were continued until February 19th for trial.

Kiwanis Club News

The guests at the January 29 meeting of the Kiwanis were Mr. Sam Bertwell, the Head Electrician at WBZ-TV in Boston.

He provided some interesting insights into the TV Business. He didn't even have to show the pictures he brought, on top of his entertaining talk, he also pledged his help whenever he could be of service.

Mr. Jim Miceli, Chairman of the Wilmington Board of Selectman was the guest on February 5. On February 12th, Mrs. Susan Wallace, the speech therapist who will conduct the speech clinic in March will speak. This is a most important meeting.

Ben Hehn requested that all committees have their budget requests in no later than Feb 12th.

Gordon Richburg will lead some seven members on an interclub to Georgetown and will re-possess our Gavel.

Al Marfleet has invited President Weiss of Stoneham to visit our club to obtain his missing gavel.

It is estimated that out of a possible 500, 250 pre-schoolers will take advantage of the speech clinic. Any women who can spare two hours would be welcomed. At least 20 women are needed to help out. The tentative hours of the clinic will be 3:30 to 5:30 and 6:30 to 7:30 on March 4th, 5th and 6th at the High School.

Harold Garrett is well on the way to the establishment of a Key Club. He still has a few things to tie together, but looks for a club real soon.

NARCE NEWS

The regular monthly meeting of Chapter 507 will be held on Friday, February 9 at the Knights of Columbus Building, on Sanborn Street in Reading at 2 pm. The regular business meeting will be held and then Chief John F. Beaudoin of the Reading Police will talk on matters of law. There will be a social hour with light refreshments served.

The cost of living raise reaches a level of three per cent on Dec 31. This increase will not be felt in the annuit checks until May 1, 1968.

REV LIONEL WHISTON SPEAKER

Rev Lionel A Whiston will be the keynote speaker at the One-Day Ashram at the Congregational Church in Wilmington on Saturday of this week, beginning at 9 am and continuing until 3:30. The Ashram is a group movement, the aim of which is to deepen the spiritual life of the Church and to make God more real in one's daily living.

Mr Whiston was born in England in 1895, the third generation of Methodist preachers. He came to America at the age of 15, graduated from Lawrence College in Appleton, Wisconsin, in 1915, and did his seminary work in BU School of Theology. He was ordained as a Congregational Minister in 1917, and retired in September 1961.

The program will be under the general supervision of Mrs George England of Weymouth, and Mrs Roy Robinson of Marshfield. Rev Willis Miller, pastor of the Wilmington Methodist Church will lead the Bible Hour.

Each one attending will take his own bag lunch. Tea, coffee, or milk will be provided. Reservations are not necessary. There is a registration fee of $1.00.

Send your announcements to Nancy, Box 208, Wilmington, or call 657-7141, or after five, 658-4865. If I'm not there, I'll call you.

First off this week, I want to give my sincere thanks to all of you folks that have donated to the shipment for the people both servicemen and kids that are on board the Sanctuary. The Clan is busy packing the stuff and it will be shipped out on the fifteenth. Are you ready, Henry? By the way, we find that the postage will be considerable, so any of our service clubs that wish to donate to that purpose, we will thank. How about that, Hayward, Tony, and John?

To Tommy and Marc, it has been most rewarding to see the response for you boys. Will be shipping the stuff out to you soon. Looks like Wilmington can really come through when they wish!

We see that Jeannie Foley didn't take long for that trip to the hospital. She's back running on all eight cylinders. Congratulations, Jean! (Can't keep you or Marvin down. That shows you what Wilmington stock will do!)

The Sons of Italy Lodge is having a Spaghetti Supper on February 10 - Saturday - at the Grange Hall. The tickets are $2.00. The bar will be open at 6 pm. Serving will begin promptly at 7 pm and be continuous until 8 pm. There will be dancing from 8 to 12, and the music will be supplied by the same group that did the Christmas Party, so it should be a Ball! Call 658-8426 for tickets or call any of the members! (Take that one in, folks. Good for the mid-winter doldrums!)

Mr and Mrs Ronald Zwicker have a new son, Grandmother Rose tells me. He was born at the Winchester Hospital on Feb 2 at 6:11 am, and is that Grandmother ever proud. Congratulations there Mr and Mrs Ronald!

The Wilmington Jaycee's have chosen a number of excellent bands to appear in their 'Battle of the Bands Contest' which will be held on Friday, February 23, at 8 pm in the Wilmington High School Gym. There are still openings for a few more. The auditions can be arranged by calling Bob Jennings at 658-8518, and an exciting evening is certain for all who attend. There will be tickets sold at the door, which will give all of the audience an opportunity to win the door prizes of record albums, which will be drawn during the evening.

Lance corporal Carl Guarino is home on leave and will be having a new address when he returns.... Pfc Bob Sullivan of the 13th Marines was wounded in action, but is now home from VietNam for good.... Joe Castaldo is graduating from Radar School this week and will be having a new address in Philadelphia.... Staff Sergeant Gerald F. Lang, husband of the former Evelyn Southmayd is now a member of the Military Airlift Command and stationed at McGuire AFB in New Jersey.

Larry Whitney of 5 Wing Road is enrolled as a sophomore student at Wheaton College.

By the way, if any of you folks see small german shepherd puppy answering to the name of 'Lucy', with a tan and black coat, and a red collar, which would have been picked up in the vicinity of Diamond Crystal Salt or Burlington Avenue or Sweetheart Plastics, she belongs to the Clan, and we'd certainly appreciate her return. Call me at the Depot 657-7141.

The new practice teachers at Wilmington High School from Merimack College this year are Janet Elias of Arlington, Mass and Margaret Tinker of Orange, Conn.

Did you notice the elegant pictures of Mrs John Hayward in the Herald and Globe this week? She was taken as a member of the Federation of Women's Club Happy Birthday Party. She is the Corresponding Secretary of the Federation. We noted also that the gals were all sporting their flowered hats in the receiving line. That's the spirit we like to see. Spring must be just around the corner.

Bill Iovanna came into the Depot and introduced himself and his wife today. It certainly was great to see him. (He's the lad that does so well with the pen and has been stationed in Washington). Now, he tells me that he has a thirty day leave, about which time will be spent ten days in this fair city and then on to Bermuda and Nassau for a real vacation. He'll be then assigned to the USS Constellation and expects to be gone for two years. Good to see you, Bill. Good luck, and may God be with you on your new venture!

Hey Folks: Our own Jerry Rooney, World Traveler. You read all about his travels in the Town Crier, and then you read about his two days at the Rotary Club, where he showed slides on Australia, and Japan.

Now he is going to be doing it at St. Dorothy's Church - but better. And his guitar will be there too.

It's Friday, 8 pm., and this gal predicts there'll be standing room by the time the word gets around. Get your tickets early!

HELP...HELP...HELP.... Your generosity is overwhelming. It's just great, but...I had no idea that there would be more than one-quarter as much stuff to be sent to the Sanctuary, and I do need some help with the postage. Vets Service Organizations, Churches where are you? It looks like the postage will be equal to the clan's grocery bill, and that's no small amount, so PLEASE?

The Dayton Skate Exchange is still going strong. Vacation Week is coming up, so your little boys and girls (sizes 11-2) are in luck for there are plenty of skates for them. Some double runners are available. There are 2 pair of men's skates, sizes 10 and 12. Also there are a pair of men's size 10 Speed Skates. If you are cleaning out, and wish to donate skates at anytime they will be welcome. The charge is $1 per pair to exchange skates, one size for another, and the proceeds go into the WSCS Treasury at the Wilmington Methodist Church. The telephone number is 658-2583.

Speaking of cleaning out, the WSCS Bargain Basement is having Winter clearance on all coats, skirts, sweaters, and dresses, girls 24 inch bike and 1 boys. Call Frannie Gamlin or visit her at her home on Tuesdays 1 to 3 or Thursdays 7 to 9. (Thanks to the Bargain basement for their fine donation of books for the Sanctuary!)

Seems like Herb Colby of Grace Drive is having a little difficulty with the popularity of this paper. Today there arrived addressed to the Captain a copy of the following note: Dear Larz, Please excuse me for waging one-man wars, but I am going to write you to tell you of the note that I am leaving in my mailbox tomorrow.

'To our mailman: This morning, I noted a newspaper in my mailbox which I left there with the intention of picking this paper up in the evening for my reading pleasure. I treat this paper the same as if I had placed it there with my own hand. When I came home this evening, the paper was gone and my mail had been delivered. What choice have I than to blame you for my paper's disappearance. Once you even sent my oil invoice back to my oilman because you said it had no right to be in my mailbox. I have been very tolerant especially considering how courteous the other mailmen are in our town. You may be legally right in what you do, but you will never be the favorite talk in this neighborhood. Signed: Mr Colby'

Selectmen's Meeting

The Board of Selectmen, in a joint meeting with members of the Permanent Building Committee, the Finance Committee, and the School Committee, were told on Monday night that the School Building Assistance Board, a part of the Department of Education of Massachusetts, would not allow smaller classrooms in the proposed Shawshen Avenue School, even though the classes are to be smaller.

It is proposed to have twenty-five pupils in a class, in the new school. Superintendent of Schools Harold Shea said that the present average is just over 29.

Dick Barry of the Finance Committee and others affirmed that they had questioned Steve Domas of the SBAB on the point of smaller classrooms, because they would cost less, but that Mr Domas had been adamant.

The new school plans are for a building of 56,253 square feet, instead of 63,500 square feet. The estimated cost is $1,674,720 instead of the former cost of $1,942,500. The cost will be smaller by $267,780, the Selectmen were told.

Chairman John Callan of the PBC told the Selectmen that the plans for the new school follow the plans of the Woburn Street School as closely as is possible. There will be 26 classrooms in one ell, and the cafetorium, kitchen, gym, and other special rooms in the other.

Barry said that the cost per pupil will be lower than it is in most of the schools built in Massachusetts in the past year.

Fred Dicenso developer of the Route 93 Industrial Park appeared to ask for a railroad grade crossing, 150 feet from the Woburn line, across Woburn Street. This was a service to two proposed buildings or perhaps a third one on Industrial Way. He claims that the Town Engineer had a letter from the B&M in November and this was a technicality. A hearing will be held next week with the Town Engineer and B&M present.

Leslie Morash, President of the Service Warehouse Inc., now building a new warehouse on Ballardvale Street appeared before the Board with a request for the approval of the Board, so that he could be bonded in Wilmington. George Boylen made a motion to welcome Service Warehouse to Wilmington which was approved by all.

There was a change made in the minutes for last week to clarify the gas station vote, stating that four were in favor of denying the permit and one abstained.

The intent to layout the following streets on betterments was made: Burt Road, Beeching Ave, Jere Road, Ellwood Road, and Allen Court. Mrs Drew was opposed and so stated, while the motion had been made by Boylen that if all of the surveying was accomplished, they should come to the hearing. Mrs. Drew further stated that she was not voting, because they were not supposed to do this, unless the work is done by October 1. The Town Engineer was told to get Ellwood Road done.

A letter from the Secretary of State, John Davoren, estimated the Free Cash, to be used to offset the tax rate in the annual town meeting, at $132,324.49.

TM Sterling Morris, some months ago, had made an estimate of $140,000, and the Selectmen were disappointed to hear that the official figures were lower.

The Board voted to sell land in North Wilmington to Larz Nelson, in conformity with the vote of the Special Town Meeting last November.

George Boylen drew the attention of the Board to the fact that Mrs Wavie Drew had just completed another year of Perfect Attendance at the Selectmen's Meetings, and she was complimented by the other members.

Miceli called attention to the fact that the Dog Officer and Animal Inspector had resigned and the TM was having difficulty replacing him. A suggestion was made to contact the veterinarian in town.

Lt Robert Woods was present from the Fire Department and after Mr Black called attention to the fact that the fire box on the corner of Church and Thurston Ave was taken down by a plow and he felt something should be done about it, Mr Woods stated that they would install a new one on Tuesday.

Letters from abutting towns proved Mr Buzzell's statement with regard to Wilmington's not having as many gas stations on Main St as those towns. Reading has 20 stations and 8 second class garages; five garages on Main St with fourteen filling stations. Tewksbury has a total of 14 with 12 on Main St; Burlington has a total of 17 with 10 on Main St.

New Business

Black questioned the fact that the state had not been billed for Chapter 90 work on 62 or 129. The TM will attend to this.

Mrs Drew suggested that no new victuallers licenses be issued without the consent of the Town Sanitarian at his request to which the remainder of the Board agreed.

There was a communication from the Secretary of State with regard to a certificate of Incorporation for the Kiwanis of Wilmington Inc. The president of the Club is E. Hayward Bly.

There was a communication from the County Commissioners pertaining to public hearings on redistricting. The schedule is as follows: Lowell, Feb 5 at 7:30 Framingham Feb 7 at 7:30 and Cambridge, Feb 8 at 7:30.

There was a communication from the developer regarding the Alderwood Estates: 'We would at this time like to have your board set a meeting with the conservation commission on the modification of the third section of Alderwood Estates, Wilmington, Mass. Please inform us when this meeting is to take place and where'.

The Developer had phoned stating he would be requesting a Hatch Act Hearing. Since no request appeared, he will receive a letter that no meeting is to take place.

The last item on the agenda was a communication from the Dept of Corporations and Taxes. It stated that the books and accounts as of Sept 8, 1967 of the Town were found to be correct with all funds properly accounted for by the auditors, and also it was reported that 'it was an outstanding job'.

The Model Work-Study Plan of Wilmington

The Work-Study Program of the Wilmington Schools is drawing state wide attention.

Initiated in 1964, after extensive research, the program is a part of the curriculum of Wilmington High School. The study was by Harold E Driscoll. In the program the student spends part of the day in school and the other part on the job. It has served its purpose well by keeping in school many students who would otherwise have dropped out.

Many school systems have sent observers to Wilmington to see the plan in operation.

In the past two weeks Methuen sent a team composed of a Junior High School Principal, a Guidance Counselor, and the prospective Work-Study Coordinator, and Lawrence sent a three member team composed of the head of the Social Studies and two Guidance Counselors, to discuss the program with Mr Driscoll and Miss Irene Sharp. Both teams left with the very definite idea of putting a similar program into operation in September 1968.

Wilmington's Work-Study program has been successful because of the backing of the business men of the community, who have been employing the students in the program. Working together in the program have been dedicated teachers and administrators, and the co-operation of the School Committee.

Candidates Night

Will Be Feb 21

Candidates Night, when the candidates for office present themselves, and answer questions, at the Wilmington League of Women Voters and friends, is to be on Feb. 21 in the Herbert C Barrows Auditorium of the High School.

The meeting is to begin at 8 pm. Questions on current town issues have been prepared by the League and sent to the candidates, so that they may be prepared to give their considered answers and opinions.

Following the meeting there will be coffee and donuts in the small cafeteria, with the candidates.

Mrs Barbara Sullivan, Past President, will be the Moderator.

Fullerton

The at 3 am on January 31st, 19 Vietcong made their way into the US Embassy.

Jack was killed during that six-hour fight. The last picture of him, too, was taken during that fight. It appeared only a few hours later, on the pages of the Boston Globe, showing him as an unidentified Military Policeman, taking a wounded civilian to an ambulance, and then later the same picture was in Life magazine.

Death, when it came, was in the form of an hostile anti-tank missile. It struck a tower which Jack was defending.

Jackie Fullerton was one of eight children, the first child, and the first son. He was born in Cambridge on May 11, 1948, and when his father and mother moved to Wilmington, he started his schooling in this town, in the first grade. As a junior in High School, he worked for Sweetheart Plastics part time, and he worked for a time as a part-time custodian in the High School. While in High School, he played in the football team, and engaged in other sports. He had been a Cub Scout, and was in the Wilmington Little League for four years.

He enlisted in the US Army Airborne Division in December of 1966, hoping to be a Paratrooper. But, after enlisting his appendix had to be removed, and he was told that he could not stand the rough landings, so instead, he was put into the Infantry and in June 1967 he left for Vietnam.

And with his share of fighting, and of being wounded, he had time for other things.

There was, for instance, his story of Sam. Sam was a non-descript mongrel dog who had attached himself to the Americal Division's 3rd Brigade, 4th Infantry.

To the men of A Company, 2nd Battalion, Sam was the Point Dog, and a morale booster too. It was he who first detected the ambush of November 13th, and Sam and Jack were the two who were injured in that brief fire-fight.

The medics got Jack to a waiting helicopter, while another worked on Sam, who had suffered a bullet wound in the fleshy part of his neck. As the helicopter was about to take off, Sam got to his feet, and jumped in, much to the surprise of a medic in the helicopter. Sam and Jack rode to the hospital together, and Jack wrote home about it, but Sam died of infection two days later.

Jack had been scheduled for a ten-day rest and recreation, to be spent in Bangkok, Thailand, and to start on February 6th. He never made it, of course.

Instead he is on his way home. The body is expected to arrive in Wilmington in about a week.

There will be a funeral in the church where he used to worship St Dorothy's.

His parents are requesting that there be no flowers, but instead that donations be sent to the Carmelite Monastery, in South Dartmouth, Mass. 02748. A cousin is in that monastery, and there is no heat there.

Mr Fullerton is well known in Wilmington, as one of the custodians in Wilmington High School, and Mrs Fullerton has worked for Sweetheart Plastics and in the Cafeteria of the Glen Road School.

In addition to his brothers and sisters, Walter, Paul, Maureen, David, Robert, Gall, and Patrick, he is survived by his grandparents Mr and Mrs Manuel Pacheco, of Cambridge and Cape Cod, and there is an uncle, S/Sgt Donald Pacheco, a 19 year veteran of the US Army, who is coming home from Germany to attend the Services.

The Men Of Vietnam

Written by a Wilmington Soldier
By L Mc

Just across the China Sea
VietNam is the spot
Where we are doomed to spend our time

It's the place that God forgot.

Out with the snakes and lizards
Out where a man gets blue
Right in the middle of nowhere
Twelve thousand miles from you.

We sweat, we work, we quiver.
It's more than we can stand
We're not supposed to be convicts
Just Defenders of Our Land.

We are soldiers of the Engineer
Corps
Receiving little pay
Defending people with millions
For a lousy two-and-a-half a day.

Living with our memories
Waiting to be with our gals
Hoping all the while
They haven't married our pals.

At home we are forgotten
We belong to UNCLE SAM
We're fighting for their freedom
But, nobody gives a damn.

The time we spent in the Army
The time of our lives we miss
Don't let the Draft Board get you
And for God's Sake don't enlist

When we finally get to heaven
We'll hear Saint Peter yell
Let the boys from VietNam through
For they've spent their time in Hell!

North Wilmington 65 Years Ago

THE NORTH WILMINGTON RAILROAD STATION in 1903. This picture, property of Rodney Buck, shows also the old Buck Brothers Store, on the site of what is now Elia's Country Market.

The railroad station was also the Postoffice, and the Postmaster-Station Agent, Warren Carter, lived in an apartment upstairs with his family. Notice the gas light. The railway station burned down in 1912, watched from the Buck Brothers Store by Rodney. The store burned down shortly after the picture was taken.

The first central telephone exchange in Wilmington was in the old Buck Brothers store. The telephone pole was only for telephone wires. There were no electric lights in Wilmington in 1903.

Speech Clinic for 4, 5 Year Olds

President E Hayward Bliss announces that the Wilmington Kiwanis Club, in conjunction with the Wilmington school officials will launch a new project this month -- a pre-school (four and five year old boys and girls) free, diagnostic speech clinic.

The clinic will provide experienced speech therapists to determine if any speech correction is needed for the child tested.

According to Harold Garrett and Harold Shea, superintendent of schools, this clinic will be invaluable to these youngsters, their parents, and the schools.

All parents will be urged to send their four and five year olds to the clinic.

Harold Garrett, chairman of the Speech Clinic states that it will be held at the Wilmington High School on March 4, 5, and 6.

$75,000 GRAVEL
(From Fr. Page)

MAGEE, FATHER AND SON: At the hearing with Atty Dick Sheppard. At far right is John Earl Dick of Bedford

Street, and Joseph W Moore and John Earl Dick, both of Bedford, who together own 65 acres of land behind the Magee land.

The site over which the arguments were made is on the western side of Andover Street, above the last home in Wilmington. The Magee Construction firm owns 600 feet of frontage, and over 12 acres there.

Last fall it took out permits to construct two homes. Shortly afterwards gravel trucks began to haul out gravel - probably to the Route construction site in Somerville, where, it is said, the price of $2.50 a yard or more is paid for delivered 'burrow' (bank gravel).

The new gravel operation caused its share of excitement. After an almost hasty hearing the Board of Selectmen sought and obtained an injunction, in court, prohibiting the removal of the gravel.

The Building Inspector, Mr. McClanahan, revoked the two building permits.

And it was that revocation over which the arguments were made by Mr. Sheppard, Tuesday.

Dr. Elene Farello on Advisory Board

All manner of inventive science exhibits will challenge the judges of Technorama XII on March 29 and 30 at Cumstock Hall of Lowell Technological Institute. Chairman Raymond O Normandin expects some forty Merrimack Valley secondary schools to participate in the 1968 edition of the popular science fair co-sponsored by LTI and the Lowell Sun. An estimated 125 projects exploring the limitless aspects of science will surpass Technorama's eleven predecessors. Preliminary information has already been sent to contending communities.

Again offering their unstinting services as members of the highly essential high school advisory board will be Dr Elene W Farello head of the WHS Science Department; Peter Gabriel, Jr, Science Department chairman at the Billerica Memorial High School; Louis J Gosselin of Central Catholic High School in Lawrence; George Simonian, Science Coordinator of the Chelmsford School System; and Eugene N Wood, Dean of students at Lowell High School.

MIRIAM H. COLUCCI Collector of Taxes for the Town of Wilmington.

(This form approved by the Commissioner of Corporations and Taxation.)

Fine Time in Rotary

IT WASN'T DISCOURTESY: To the guest of the Wilmington Rotary Club, yesterday, when President John Elia read the Town Crier during the meeting, with Jason Korell, Lowell Sun County Editor, beside him.

Elia was simply trying to forestall the dollar fine that he knew he would have received, as club president, for being reported in the Town Crier for zagging, instead of zigging, last week, while skiing.

Elia fined every member a quarter, whose name appeared in the Town Crier, including Rodney Buck, whose name was not in the paper on the allegation of being a 'kissing cousin' of Johnathan Carter, a resident of North Wilmington about one hundred years ago, and whose name was in a legal notice in the Town Crier.

And he fined himself a quarter, too, thus saving himself 75 cents. The only man to be fined a dollar was Ralph M. Swanson of Raffi & Swanson. Swanson was fined a dollar for being a candidate for the Board of Selectmen in Winchester.

Korell told the Rotarians of the formation of the modern Minute Men Clubs, in eastern Massachusetts, beginning with the Concord Minutemen in his home town of Concord.

Protestant Retreat
for Boy Scouts Planned

The Protestant Committee on Scouting (in the greater Lowell area) is planning the First Protestant Retreat for Boy Scouts of the Greater Lowell Council, to be held at Camp 40 Acres in Wilmington on April 26-28.

The Retreat will be open to all Scouts and Explorers, A Minister and a Priest will be in attendance for services on Sunday, with a Priest in attendance on Saturday to hear confessions from Scouts of the Catholic faith.

Monthly meetings of the Planning Committee are being held, with the next meeting to be on February 15th 8 pm at the First Baptist Church, 1500 Andover Street, No. Tewksbury. Clergymen and Scouters in the Lowell District are invited to attend.

More About Your Servicemen

The Town Crier has a problem. It would like to know just how many men (and women) are serving in the Armed Forces, as of February One, just so that there can be a record.

The response of the readers to the coupon of a couple of weeks ago has been good.

As of last week it seemed that there 183 men in the Armed Forces from Wilmington. This week the Town Crier has ten new names bringing the total to 193.

Then - there is another problem. This one concerns Corporal John Baldwin, in the US Marines, and perhaps another serviceman. It is one of those tangles that sometimes happens when a lot of names are being sorted and corrected.

The question is: Does the Town Crier have John Baldwin's name and address correct? OR - is it just John Baldwin's name, and somebody else's address?

The address, as shown is: Cpl John Baldwin, TTM School Div 6063, Sor Schol Co, USNTC San Diego, Ca. 92133.

Will someone please write and straighten out the Town Crier, so that Baldwin, and perhaps someone else as well, can be getting their copies of the paper?

Dear Larz:

Enclosed please find my correct mailing address. I am sending you this particular address because the other, being a civilian one, may be the reason why I receive the Town Crier sometimes as late as a month.

Since this is my first letter to your paper, I would also like to take this opportunity to express my gratitude to the Town Crier, and the people of Wilmington for all the wonderful things that you have done for us servicemen. I believe that I speak not only for myself, but also for every man and woman from Wilmington, who wears the uniform of his Country.

While a Christmas Card, or a 'Care Package' may not seem such a great thing to some people, believe me, it is indeed! As a Hospital Corpsman, I have had the opportunity to witness the reactions of some of the recipients of these 'Contacts with Home', and they are nothing less than sheer joy.

Your further assistance, be it in the form as mentioned above, or without form, such as your hopes and prayers, is both solicited and greatly appreciated. In this I refer not to myself, as I am in Hawaii and therefore far from the action, but rather to those who are fighting and dying to keep us free. Keep up the great work!

I personally would like to thank both the Andrews Family and 'Nosey Nancy' for their Christmas Cards. My wife and I were very surprised and grateful. And I do ask their forgiveness for delaying to write and thank them.

If it is possible, please print this note in the paper, so that they may see it, and realize our appreciation for their thoughtfulness.

Thank you again for everything.

C R Bard, Inc., Acquires MacBick

The C. R. Bard, Inc. company of Murray Hill, N.J. has acquired the assets of The MacBick Company of Woburn Street, Wilmington. Announcement was made on Feb. 1st jointly by Harris L. Willits, Chairman of the Board of C.R. Bard and Daniel Cronin, President of MacBick. MacBick, with plants in Wilmington and in Fitzwilliam, N.H. is a manufacturer and distributor of hospital supplies and equipment.

There will be no changes in the organization of MacBick, which will be operated as a wholly owned subsidiary of Bard.

C. R. Bard, founded in 1907, is a leading manufacturer and marketer of hospital and surgical supplies for the US and overseas hospital markets. The company's common stock is traded in the Over-the-Counter market.

Sam Perry has Broken Hip

SAM PERRY, ON HIS 86TH BIRTHDAY: Reading Birthday Cards.

Sam Perry of High Street, approaching 87 years old, is in the Winchester Hospital, with a broken hip. He is up and walking, though, with the aid of a Walker.

Two weeks ago Wednesday Sam was operated on, in Winchester. He had fallen the Sunday previously, while at a neighbor's party, and had been taken home. He insisted that he would be all right, and it was only at the insistence of his neighbors that he finally consented to going to the hospital.

His daughter, Mrs. William Smith of Macon, Georgia, is staying at his home and taking care of the place during his absence, and a granddaughter, from Miami, has also been by the bedside.

Sam is the man who gets out and plows neighbors' driveways, after a storm, and before they get up. He has an acre garden beside his home, which he cultivates every summer. He is extremely active.

Sam antedates a lot of Wilmington history. His father was the Perry of Perry & Cutler, the firm that had a tannery in North Wilmington, beside the railroad tracks before the days of the Civil War. That tannery, later known as Harrimans, was torn down about 15 years ago, and Photon, and Avco, and the Munroe Paper Company now occupy that site.

Sam had a step-brother, well, sort of, named Caleb Harriman, who took over the business in 1898 or thereabouts.

Sam could have gone into the business with Caleb Harriman. He wasn't living in Wilmington at the time, but he came up to Wilmington to talk things over with Caleb, and Caleb advised him to talk to others too.

One man, who was foreman of a shop in Woburn, thought that there wasn't much future in the tanning business, so Sam became a Pattern Maker instead, learning the trade from a man named Hamlin, who lived where the Krey family now lives, on Andover Street.

Sam worked for the Phillips Pattern Works, on Purchase St. in Boston. The firm moved to Cambridge, and then Arlington, and Sam went with them.

At one time old man Phillips had to make a model of an old auto, -the kind that was steered with a tiller instead of a wheel, and Sam made that model. One of the cars was brought right into the shop, and Sam worked right from the car, making a car that was exactly one foot long, but which had wheels that would turn, and a 'buggy' top.

His boss, Sam recalls, was paid $500 for making that model, which was on the table for some time for automobile dealers - 'but they didn't pay me that much'.

Among the things he did was to make the pattern for the first - the very first Gillette Razor.

He worked, before working for Phillips, for the Union Metal Works in Chelsea, also as a pattern maker. He worked for that firm for 35 years.

He finally retired about 15 years ago.

It was in 1909 that he and his wife moved to Wilmington. Sam bought one acre of land from the widow of William Henry Carter One, on High Street, and he has lived in the home he built ever since. His first year's taxes were $50. Today the house and land is taxed at $1200.

Today, over 86 years old, and in the hospital with a broken hip, he is still the most alert type of man. He'll be out soon, he knows. Maybe some walks won't be plowed for a few weeks, if there is a snow, but Sam will be busy in a couple of months, getting his garden ready

Special Notice

$75,000 GRAVEL
(From Pg. 9)The Arguments

The first argument was over whether or not the younger Mr Magee had filed an appeal in time for the Board of Appeals to consider the case. Mr Magee told the Board of Appeals that he had 'filed' within 20 days of receiving the notice of revocation of the building permit, with the girl in the building inspector's office. This was on or about the 19th of December.

The Building Inspector testified that he had sent a letter to Mr Magee Jr on Dec. 29th, a Friday. By this token the letter would have been delivered on Saturday, and it would have been impossible for a second appeal to have been filed after the New Year - on Tuesday. The younger Magee said he believed he had filed before he received the Building Inspector's letter.

Sheppard read a transcript of the hearing on the Temporary Restraining Order, which, on Page 12 was relating to Mr McClanahan. It showed that the question asked McClanahan was if there was any other way the house could be built, other than on a 5% rise of grade (from the street).

Sheppard told the Board that no one has contended that the Magee Construction Company was deviating in any way from the plan for the homes, filed with the Building Inspector.

Secondly, he told the Appeal Board that there was nothing in the Town Bylaws which gives the Building Inspector the right to revoke a building permit.

Sheppard cited Massachusetts cases (tried in courts) in which it was held that, in substance, 'if you grant a permit, and you want to revoke it, then there has to be a hearing'.

'I say that the Building Inspector was absolutely wrong!'

'We never had a hearing - there fore it is illegal under the law!'

Sheppard went on to read more on the decisions cited, showing that it had been said that 'it is not necessary to determine whether or not any money has been spent' on the construction.

'And', he added, 'even if we had the permit we couldn't go ahead because of the injunction'.

Sheppard read out loud sections of the Zoning By-Law, to show that nothing could be done, and then finished this particular part of the argument by telling the Board of Appeals that the Building Inspector was wearing two hats - that of Building Inspector and that of Zoning Officer.

'Our feeling is that this is an improper revocation of the Building Permit'.

Referring to the section of the Zoning By Law which regulates moving of gravel, he said that 'by (the same) token you couldn't take a load of gravel out of your cellar.'

'We have not gone one inch below the grade shown on the plan filed with the Building Inspector'.

165 Feet

The younger Mr Magee testified that the plan showed the house to be located about 200 feet from the street line, and the sewage disposal field to be located closer to the street, 165 feet in front of the house where would be, he said, a five degree pitch (difference in elevation).

Questioning brought out further that it was planned to have a house of about twenty five feet in width, and that there would be a backyard of about 150 feet, making the total distance for excavations 375 feet from the street.

Sheppard pointed out that there was a curve, in the way of Andover Street, and that it was reasonable to expect that sometime or other the town would want to straighten out that curve, and that as a consequence the house would then be nearer to the street.

Topographic Map

There was discussion about the grades. The Magees, junior and senior, said that the hill in the lot continues to rise as it goes back from the street. At about 100 feet back they estimated the elevation to be approximately 75 feet higher than the street, and at 400 feet back they estimated another 50 feet.

Chairman Howlett asked if the Magees would be willing to put up a bond as a safeguard to the Town of Wilmington that they would not excavate more than was shown. Sheppard said he had offered to do that during the Court Hearing.

The Senior Magee contended that the removal of the gravel would be an improvement to the area, and that it would be much better after they had built the two homes because as of now, the land was of no value.

Sheppard said that from the 325 foot mark to the rear of the lot they had offered to grade with 'proper sloping' on the sides, as set forth in the permits. 'We don't want to change anything we set out to do'.

Again the Chairman asked if a bond would be posted. He also wanted a topographic map.

Sheppard told him that a topographic map would cost $2500. Unspoken, it seemed that the Chairman and Sheppard were talking of a topographic map of conditions as they now exist.

It was then that Howlett asked how much gravel would be removed, and the younger Magee using the term 'burrow' estimated 200 to 250 thousand yards. It would be worth, he said in reply to questions, basically 60¢ to 75¢ per yard loaded on trucks at the pit-site, and the cost of loading would be such that they would be netting 20¢ or 25¢ per yard.

Howlett: Still, you're talking $75,000. It's not worth a gamble to invest $2500?

Sheppard: Not if we are not going to get a permit! He added that 'if we are told we could have a permit, it would be worth it'.

The younger Magee tried to tell about his agreement with the Water Department to put in a twelve inch water main. The Chairman was not interested. It had no bearing on the case, he said.

It was then that Ernest Jamieson of the Board of Appeals spoke up to ask if they were not interested in supplying a 'finished topo'. The air cleared. Sheppard was willing to furnish a topographic plan of the area showing the proposed excavations. He and the senior Magee almost chorused, 'No objections to that!'

Other Statements

Chairman James Miceli of the Board of Selectmen went on record for his Board that they were opposed 'until a decision has been made in the current action against Magee in Court'.

Joseph W Moore and John Earl Dick of Bedford wanted to see the proposed topographic plan, as abutments. Dick agreed that it was a gravel operation, and Mr Moore was sorry that the water main was not going to extend further, to his property.

Ed Ferguson, also an abutment, was interested in the maintenance of a 45 degree slope, after the excavations.

Bill Stickney, representing the Planning Board, had no statement, and the Town Counsel kept his silence throughout.

The Chairman then asked the Magees as to the length of time it would take to complete the houses. The younger Magee said 12 to 18 months. After a moment it was clear that the Chairman was talking in terms of limits to be put on the permit, if the Board of Appeals should overrule the Town Manager. Sheppard agreed that a year and a half limit would allow plenty of time to get out the gravel and build the homes.

The case was then taken under advisement.
